

Medical Malpractice Reporting

Reports must be filed by each company writing malpractice insurance for health care providers.

Two types of reports: Aggregate Report and Individual Claim Report.

Reports are due March 1 of each year.

Information will assist with analysis of medical malpractice market in Wyoming.

Information on reports is summarized annually and reported to the Governor.

Specific, identifiable information in reporting forms is confidential.

Who must file the Aggregate Report

Entities writing malpractice insurance for health care providers.

Any insurer having issued a medical malpractice policy during the reporting period.

Reporting period for the aggregate report is the preceding calendar year.

Includes non-admitted insurers issuing coverage through surplus lines.

If a claim is noted on the Aggregate Report, an Individual Claim Report must also be filed (see information below).

Who must file the Individual Claim Report

Any insurer with an open medical malpractice claim during the preceding calendar year.

An updated report is required for previously reported open claims.

A final report is required when a claim is closed.

Individual Claim Reports may be submitted at any time.

If claims are noted on the Aggregate Report, individual claim reports must be filed.
